ABSTRACT

Tourism impacts the environment. Therefore, the knowledge of mechanisms that allow doing an Environmental Impact Assessment (EIA) is critical. Among other methods we emphasize the Leopold Matrix, a kind of interaction matrix that allows clear visualization of the potential impact of a venture or project. This article aims to show the potential environmental impact of Uakari Floating Lodge, through an adaptation of the Leopold Matrix, evaluating the Magnitude and Importance of their environmental impacts. We found 28 environmental aspects in Uakari Lodge, being "generation of domestic wastewater" and "accumulation of used batteries" the most significant internal aspects, and "utilization of lubricating oil and fuel in motor boats rides" and "generation of gases from fuel combustion in boat rides" the most significant external aspects. All of them were identified as environmental aspects with potential for Direct (84.6%), Reversible (76.9%), Insignificant (46.2%) or Moderated (53.8%), and Local (100%) impacts. The results indicate the environmental aspects raised have low impact to the natural environment, considering the enterprise scale. However, we should find ways to mitigate their effects, once the Uakari Floating Lodge is located in a Protected area (Area).

RESUMO

O turismo é impactante ao ambiente. Por isso, é fundamental o conhecimento de mecanismos que permitem realizar uma Avaliação de Impacto Ambiental (AIA). Entre outros métodos, destaca-se a Matriz de Leopold, um tipo de matriz de interação que permite visualizar de forma clara o potencial de impacto de empreendimento/projeto em estudo. Este artigo teve por objetivo demonstrar o potencial de impacto ambiental da Pousada Flutuante Uacari, através da adaptação da Matriz de Leopold, com valoração de Magnitude e Importância de seus aspectos ambientais. No total, foram levantados 27 aspectos ambientais, sendo "geração de efluentes domésticos" e "acúmulo de baterias e pilhas usadas" os aspectos internos mais significativos, e "Utilização de óleos lubrificantes e combustível nos motores dos botes de passeio" e "geração de gases provenientes queima de combustíveis nos botes de passeio" os aspectos externos mais importantes. Todos eles foram identificados como aspectos ambientais com potencial de impacto Direto (84.6%), Reversíveis (76.9%), Insignificantes (46.2%) ou Moderados (53.8%), e Local (100%). Os resultados apontam que os aspectos ambientais levantados são pouco impactantes ao ambiente natural, visto a escala do empreendimento. Entretanto, deve-se buscar meios para mitigar seus efeitos, uma vez que a Pousada Uacari está localizada em uma Unidade de Conservação.
